Välisinvestorite põgenemine Eestist ei ole hirm, vaid karm tegelikkus, kirjutab Ernst & Young Baltic ASi partner ja juhatuse liige Ranno Tingas.

Ettevõtlusest kui riigi majandusliku edukuse alustalast räägitakse Eestis üha rohkem, millest on olnud palju kasu – seda peegeldab kasvav ettevõtlusega tegelevate inimeste hulk rahvastikust. Oma osa oli selles ka masu sundolukorras, mis suunas paljusid töö kaotanud inimesi ettevõtlusesse, kuid ka riskijulgus ja tegutsemistahe on kasvanud. Rahvastiku

The screenshot shows the homepage of e-estonia.com. At the top, there is a navigation bar with the logo 'e ESTONIA The Digital Society' and links for 'e-Estonia', 'Components', and 'Case Studies'. A search bar is also present. Below the navigation bar is a large banner image featuring a smiling woman and a blue police light bar. The banner text reads 'Safer Streets Through Technology' and 'Serving and protecting with the help of e-Police systems'. Below the banner is a 'Welcome to e-Estonia' section with a brief description of Estonia's digital society and a 'Learn more about e-Estonia' link. To the right of this section is an 'About Estonia' section with a map of Estonia and a 'Learn More' link. At the bottom, there is a 'Digital Society Components' section with four cards: 'Electrono ID Card', 'I-Voting', 'X-Road', and 'Mobile-ID'. On the right side of the page, there is a 'Find us on Facebook' section with a Facebook social plugin showing the 'E-Estonia' page and a list of users who like it.
